Welcome to KU Media KU Media provides information to and from all of the Kansas University Campus Information Offices, including KU Housing, Student Affairs, and Dining. We're all of us here on our own campuses, and we work hard to help each other every day. You'll find us at the office on the 15th floor of the Academic Building. We are located in Suite 150. Did You Know? There is a University-wide job listing for the position of University Auditor. This position is not a separate position within any of our various departments. It is a mix of some internal and external activities. A complete list of duties is available by clicking here. The Kansas University Administration building is located just a block from Kansas Hall, Lawrence. The university buildings are within a block of the library, Neosho Hall, and the medical center. In this photo, the West Mall is seen beyond the south end of the administration building. The pedestrian tunnel connecting the administration building with Lawrence Hall is in the distance, and Kansas Hall is visible beyond. LAWRENCE, Kan. — Two years ago, the Lawrence Campus Chamber of Commerce and Kansas City's Downtown Investment Partnership hosted a joint meeting to discuss ways to connect the two cities and boost economic development efforts in Lawrence. The Kauffman Foundation Economic Growth Program helped create that first meeting. "We were looking for a catalyst and Kansas City could be that catalyst for Lawrence, and the economic development partnership was that catalyst," said Kay Rooker, Lawrence Chamber of Commerce president. "It was really a start of a whole series of events that have taken place. We're glad we had the program, and we're glad to continue the partnership with Kansas City." The leaders of both organizations met several times throughout 2010 as part of the program, which ended last year. "
